

From: Martin van Iersel
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/12/01 2:06am
Subject: ms and the rest

If you let ms install their systems into school for free you will have just given them a monopoly on the schools as well. And area where apple still has a good grip. If you want to get rid of the monopoly i think you should make ms give all the data required to allow other operating system run windows products from games to office suites.